Summaries of Lectures: Chinese 1, Postgraduate Programme Asian Studies,

Second Semester Anno Lectivo 2004-2005: Sep.2005 –March.2006, Friday 20:00-22:00
and Thursday 20:00-22:00

Summaries: February and March 2006 (five classes)

As I have written in a previous letter to Mrs.Fontina Pedrosa, it was necessary to give “bridge classes” to the first year students of the Postgraduate Programme of Asian Studies, in order to enable them to participate in the curso livre Chinese level three. I have given five “bridge classes” and have thus concluded the Chinese course for the first year students of the Postgraduate Programme of Asian Studies.

5. Friday Jan. 20th: Water and Alcohol, Eating and Feasting, Betel and Tobacco
6. Saturday Jan. 21st: replacing Prof. Fantina Pedrosa from 09.30-11.00 hrs: Population Health, Hygiene, Medicine, Diseases

7. Saturday Jan. 21th from 11.00-13.00 hrs: Houses, Temples, Tombs and Mosques
(Friday Jan. 27th: no lecture was given)
8. Saturday Jan. 28th: Furniture, Lighting, Body Ornamentation, Hairstyles

A new element in these lectures was that I supported my teaching with a wide variety of visual materials, shown with the help of a computer and projector, in order to bring Southeast Asian culture closer to the student in as direct and impact-full a manner as possible.

With the exception of Saturday Jan. 21th, on which day I filled the lecture time of Prof. Fantina as well as my own, each reported day 2 hours of lecture were given. The total amount of time taught was therefore 15 hours and 30 minutes.
